Cubitt hires Nelson

Cubitt Consulting has announced the appointment of Nicholas Nelson as a director in its Growth Companies team.

Nicholas was the managing director of Hansard Communications, the AIM specialist, until the recent sale of its business to Porta Communications.

He has specialised in smaller companies investment and advice for over two decades having started his City career as a junior dealer on the floor of the London Stock Exchange in 1985 followed by 13 years in stockbroking, smaller companies research and investment management.

In 1998 Nicholas moved into financial PR, since which time he has held senior roles in a range of firms, including seven years at College Hill Associates.

"Nicholas's appointment is the start of more investment by us into services to growth companies," commented Simon Brocklebank-Fowler, managing partner of Cubitt Consulting. "Both he and his team Co-Director, Chris Lane, are well established in the small cap world and we look forward to further building our client base and reputation in this important area, alongside our existing strengths in Private Equity & Capital Markets, Energy, Real Estate and TMT."
